Condominium project approved by council on tight 4-3 vote

The controversial - $8,000,000 condominium project Delcon Management Corp. has planned for West Grandin Park was approved by council Monday night.

Technically, it wasn't the 500-unit condominium project that was being voted on, but there isn't any doubt that it was foremost in the minds of the 130 ratepayers present when the amended bylaw rezoning 81 acres of the 96-acre tract squeaked through second and third readings.

Prior to the vote, council received three written submissions and several oral presentations, all opposing the rezoning to residential-multiple family (R3). The public hearing, at which more than half of those present stood, lasted for an hour and 15 minutes.

When the shooting stopped, Councillors J. J. Bakker, Frank Lukay, Armand Donais and Bob Russell stuck by their guns of the first-round skirmish Sept. 2 and supported the rezoning motion.

Mayor Ray Gibbon and Councillor Rene Kambour-off, opposing the motion at the special meeting Sept. 2, had Councillor R. G. Wheatley with them this time around but they lacked the ammunition to disclose any of the others from their earlier stand.

Before the final vote, council voted on amendments moved by Councillor Lukay and Mayor Gibbon.

Councillor Lukay's amendment to the bylaw, which would have rezoned the entire tract, peeled off 17 acres to remain as residential comprehensive, bordered by Father Lacombe School the south end of Greenleaf Place and Grenfell and Gainsborough Avenues. It called through 5-2 with Mayor Gibbon and Councillor Wheatley voting against.

Mayor Gibbon's amendment, which was actually an amendment to the amendment, would have rezoned only the 50-acre portion for which Delcon planned its development. It fell 2-5, with only the mayor and Councillor Wheatley offering support.

It was not known at press time if any of those opposing the rezoning planned any further action in an attempt to block the condominium development. Lawyer Allan Bryant submitted a brief on behalf of one of the groups in opposition, and following the meeting some of its members said further talks would be held with him.

Mr. Bryant in his brief, to which 100 signatures were attached, asked that council reconsider the proposed bylaw in its entirety or:

Amend it to rezone only those areas for which the development scheme has been submitted;

Take such steps as are necessary to ensure a comprehensive development in the form of condominium units, of the type and quality portrayed by the developers;

Postpone rezoning to R3 of the remaining areas of the subdivision.

Mr. Bryant said the only possible benefit to the community of such an extensive R3 zoning would be the prospect of increased tax revenue. However, he said that the amount would be inconsequential in comparison to the town's total revenue and could well be offset by an increase in indirect costs.

He said costs were likely to increase from over-population of existing school and developed park and recreation facilities.

Other problems which might arise, he said, would be increased vehicular and pedestrian traffic with the necessity of large unattractive off-street parking areas, elimination or reduction of greenbelt and parkland areas, and in the event that the condominium project was not completed in total, that the town would be committed to an extraordinary supply of R3 lots.

Advisory committee for teens

The first step was taken last Thursday night toward reopening of the town's teen centre.

It was taken under the fatherly eye of Mayor Ray Gibbon, who had words of encouragement but also words of warning.

"We've got good teens in this town," the mayor said, "We have some bad apples, but on the whole they're a good bunch.

"They want the teen centre to reopen and this time know they need help to make it go. It's up to you to provide this help.

"Because if this one closes, it will never open again."

Out of the meeting in the council chambers, called by the mayor, came a steering committee of seven from the 25 interested persons present.

Members are Brent Hodgins, Mrs. James Yuskiv, Mrs. Robert Spencer, Rev. Leonard Musto, Mrs. Paul Sauner, Don LaBelle and Frank Vettergreen.

They were to meet as soon as possible with a steering committee of teens which they hoped would come equally from Paul Kane and St. Albert High Schools.

The teen centre will no longer bear the name Sanctum. It will go along with the boards that now cover the windows of the long, brown building on Mission Avenue.

Mayor Gibbon made it plain Thursday, however, that there would be much more to the reopening than the simple matter of a new name and the unlocking of doors and barring of windows.

"I have to take this to council," he said, "and when I do it will have to be with a strong advisory committee to convince them that this thing will go."

Mayor Gibbon said work on the Sanctum began in January of 1968 with teens meeting and drawing up a temporary constitution.

"They set up committees but by the time the teen centre opened, they had pretty well dispersed," the mayor said. "The adult committee that was formed also dispersed."

The mayor said the temporary constitution the teens drew up was a good one, but they didn't stick to it. He

New plan for arena

The Chamber of Commerce has plans for a covered skating facility it says can be erected at a cost of - $75,000.

The chamber presented the proposal to the St. Albert and District Area Fund committee Monday.

The facility would be erected in Sturgeon Heights on the site of the present open-air rink.

The building, 220 feet long and 110-feet wide, is said to accommodate 1,200 spectators.

Marcel De Champlain, committee chairman, said Tuesday he would attend another meeting for Thursday night when the full committee could study the proposal.

Council passed a motion Monday night that $250,000 be included in the capital estimates for 1970 for the purposes of constructing a covered arena, including ice plant, floor and seating.

It also approved an amendment to the motion that an information bylaw be included in the 1970 election vote requesting guidance from the ratepayers as to the desirability of an arena.

Members of the local detachment of the RCMP are keeping a close watch on school zones now that another school term is under way.

The original motion by Councillor Rene Kambour-off came out of a finance committee meeting attended by Mayor Ray Gibbon and Councillor Bob Russell, who recent months has been pushing for action on an arena or at least some type of shelter for one or two of the present rinks.

Finance committee felt that the proposal for a covered arena should again be placed before the taxpayers so that it could be decided once and for all whether the citizens of St. Albert are in favor of such expense.

The committee pointed out that the bylaw which put $75,000 towards an arena was now quite useless and that this sum was approved by the Local Authorities Board subject to all additional expenses being obtained through fund-raising.

Councillor Lukay noted that when people go to vote on the bylaw they should know how much it is going to affect their mill rate.

Councillor Bakker could not see borrowing that much money under current interest rates.

Sgt. Ken Williams, head of the local detachment, said Monday that several summonses had been issued in the last little while. He said a constant watch would be kept on school zones

Election candidates

Council Monday night authorized the rental of the Community Hall at town expense for the holding of an election rally on Oct. 9 or 10.

A local organization, it felt, would conduct the rally. In past years it has been handled by the Chamber of Commerce, but the chamber doesn't appear too willing this year. Stay tuned to this channel for further developments.

the readers write . . .

Dear Sir:

The St. Albert Chapter of the Alberta Association of Registered Nurses unanimously opposes Bill 119 "Council on Nursing."

We object to the obligation of participation, financial and otherwise to a council over which the nursing profession would have no little control especially in the vital areas of education and discipline.

In the composition of the council, representative of paramedical, medical and lay groups together outnumber the representation from our profession.

In 1963 our association agreed to the formation of a legal and licensing body to safeguard the public with regard to all those who nurse for hire. This recommendation was part of the task study on the Scarlett Report entitled "The Study of a College of Nursing." This study has been ignored up until now.

We would be in favor of the drafting of a bill which recognized the principles as outlined in this study.

It is our firm resolve that the nursing profession will serve best by remaining a profession; that is, autonomous, free to expand and accommodate to changing needs, leading and guiding all others who perform nursing tasks.

We deplore any bill affecting nursing which has been presented before an evaluation as to its value and long-term effects has been made and found acceptable by our profession.

Our chapter recommends that immediate steps be taken to establish a council or college using the 1963 guidelines while interest is high and the need so obvious.

Bus to university operating from town

Response to Western Bus Lines direct service between St. Albert and the University of Alberta is increasing, a company spokesman reported Tuesday.

The service began Sept. 15 after a questionnaire the company distributed through the Gazette revealed that there was a need for such a run.

"We needed 25 replies to make it worthwhile to start the service," the spokesman said, "and we got them. We're adding to it, not too quickly, maybe, but here and there."

The bus comes into the Sturgeon area at 7 a.m. each morning Monday through Friday. It winds its way along the regular route, through Mission and out

Singers to start Oct. 2

The St. Albert Singers, a community choral group, will be reorganizing for its second season on Thursday, Oct. 2, at 8:30 p.m. in the United Church.

Anyone, from high school age and up, who enjoys singing is invited to join the group which is directed by Mrs. Lillian Upright.

A busy year with an interesting and varied program of choral music is planned, further details of which will appear in next week's Gazette.

High schoolers with guitars, rhythm instruments and/or voices are also wanted for the intermediate choir.

They will also practice on Thursday, Oct. 2, at 7:30 p.m. in the United Church.

University, and arrives at the university about 7:50.

It leaves the university at 5 each evening and enters St. Albert the same way as in the morning.

When it first began, passes were limited to the direct bus. Now, however, they can be used on any of Western's scheduled runs into the town or out of it.

"We found that some people can go to classes late," the spokesman said. "This change enables them to take a regular bus into Edmonton and a city bus from there to the University. They can also come home early if they wish."

The questionnaire also asked if there were any persons wishing transportation to the Northern Alberta Institute of Technology. There were only 10 replies.

"There might still be a service yet," the spokesman said. "The students Union was going to look into it but we haven't heard back yet."

Car club meeting with good response

St. Albert teens within a month may be racing cars within town limits—and it will all be legal.

About 35 people attended a meeting in the Clubhouse last Wednesday night and plans were formulated for the setting up of a car club. The finishing touches, including the election of an executive, will take place at a meeting in the Clubhouse at 1 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 29.

Brent Hodgins, chairman of the youth committee of the Hiwinders Club and one of the moving forces behind the establishment of the car club, said following the Sunday meeting that if all goes well St. Albert would see its first race within a month.

The club has obtained temporary quarters on Lakeview Drive, immediately south of the plastics plant, and if town approval is obtained, an oval will be set up.

Mr. Hodgins said about a dozen cars had been donated to the club and some of them were in running condition.

At the Wednesday meeting, there were four adults and four girls among the 35 and Mr. Hodgins stressed that the club welcomed adults and girls.

"We've had numerous adults who weren't at the last meeting who have expressed interest in the club," he said. "The boys want all the adults they can get as they can use all the advice they can get."

He said memberships would be sold at the Sunday meeting, the price being set by those in attendance. He said it was anticipated there would be a much larger turnout than for the original meeting.

He said besides cars, the club was in the market for black pipe to be used as roll bars. The cars are completely stock, with only the addition of roll bars and removal of all glass and anything dangerous, and the moving of the gas tank into the trunk, to make them ready to race.

The main problem the club has faced so far in its young

Home help service awaiting approval

Target date for the start of a home help service in St. Albert has been set for sometime in November.

"Maybe we're being a little too optimistic," Mrs. Myrna Fyfe, chairman of organizations' steering committee, said Tuesday, "but we hope to be well on the road in the new year."

The project has been approved by council and its budget has been submitted to Social Development Minister Ray Speaker. If he approves the project and the budget, the next step will be incorporation under the Societies Act.

Mrs. Fyfe said it was hoped that approval would be received from Mr. Speaker early in October. She said the budget had been submitted about 10 days ago and it had been estimated that it would be about a month for it to go through the minister's hands.

The group behind the home help service has had recent meetings with the Surgeon Health Unit and the Edmonton Homemakers service, a counselling service attached to the city's welfare department.

Mrs. Fyfe said advertising will start for a supervisor, one full-time homemaker and part-time homemakers as soon as approval is received. Office space will also be required.

The project will incorporate two main aspects, mothers' replacement service and home counselling service, which will provide a practical approach to home-making.

Around Town

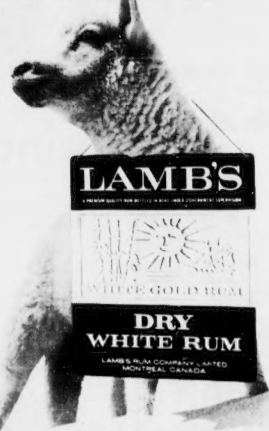

40 years ago a single young man who had come out from Denmark passed through the small town of St. Albert on his way to Peace River. When Mr. Lief Madsen returned on a recent week-end he was surprised at the size of St. Albert, and he was farm from alone. The occasion was a family reunion to celebrate his 60th birthday, and he and Mrs. Madsen were delighted to find eight of their nine children and their families on hand for family picnic in Victoria Park. Seven daughters and one son and 21 of 23 grandchildren attended. After a day at the park the family gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Zahara at 22 Geneva Cres. It was the first time in 15 years that the seven daughters had been together. The family presented Mr. Madsen with an array of gifts and good wishes. Attending the reunion were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Madsen of Peace River, Mr. and Mrs. Milt Wood of Saskatoon, Mr. and Mrs. Graham Calderbank of Fort McMurray, Mr. and Mrs. Bev Slaght, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Danyluk, Mr. and Mrs. Rabina Wilkin, Mr. and Mrs. Miles Hanlan are all of Edmonton, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Zahara and all their families. A son, Fred Madsen and his family from Pentteton were unable to be present.

life is vandalism and theft. Mr. Hodgins said there has been some stripping of cars at the club's site. He said one car was only there one and a half hours and the battery was gone.

He said the area would be patrolled by club members and also watched by RCMP, but he requested that any citizen spotting activity around the cars to investigate or report it to RCMP.

MOTO-SKI 1970 : PERFORMANCE PROFILE

"Story of Moto-Ski's Exclusive Track"

Every MOTO-SKI built features our exclusive and unique Rubberized Steel Cleated Track.

What's so special about this track? Take the cleat itself. We start with a slab of flat steel (A). First, we put a very exciting curl to the metal's edge (B). Then, each cleat is carefully hand-dipped in molten rubber and molded. Note how the curled edge allows the steel to become completely encased (C). Final shaping of each cleat gives this track its prime characteristics: (1) the traction rib for hand-parked or cruddy snow; (2) the beveled edge for superior performance in deep, soft snow.

Damage to ordinary, molded tracks, without cleats, requires total track replacement at about a hundred bucks!

On the MOTO-SKI track, individually mounted cleats can be quickly and inexpensively replaced (F). Each is secured with a half-dozen, tubular steel rivets (D) at intervals of about every three inches. The 3-ply belt (E) is constructed of the highest quality rubber and nylon and is designed with a roughly textured outer surface greater traction and a smooth inner finish that frictions. Its non-molded construction creates for greater flexibility at lowest temperatures - providing maximum conformability to all type terrain.

When you invest in a snowmobile, you have a right to expect that it will go where snowmobiles are supposed to go. With its exclusive track, MOTO-SKI means this responsibility. The result: a superior performance on ice, frost, snow, deep snow and deep, deep snow.

The standard MOTO-SKI track width is 15". The big wide track measures 18" across.

MOTO-SKI builds five great models: THE CADET, THE CAPRI, THE ZEPHYR, THE MS-18 ... and THE SPORTY GRAND PRIX.

2 YEAR TRACK WARRANTY
A two year warranty against track wear and tear applies to all 1970 single cylinder MOTO-SKI models.

COMMUNITY NEWS

Mrs. Marion Bourne picked up the hobby of ceramics in February and has ever since done a great number of figures every week.

A housewife's hobby

Is it possible for a housewife to have a hobby, to keep the house fit, to be a good wife and mother, and still have some time left for herself?

"I think it is a matter of organizing your time," says Mrs. Marion Bourne of 12820 134A Ave., who has a husband and three children but can still practice the hobby of ceramics.

Mrs. Bourne started doing ceramics in February, and has made a great number of figures since then.

"I have found the housework more interesting since I got this hobby," she says. "A hobby gives you a break in the routine and when you go back to cleaning the floors etc., it's not dull work any more."

Mrs. Bourne was inspired to start with the ceramics by Mrs. Kay Crutchfield, 12823 134A Ave., who, together with her husband, Bill, has had the hobby for several years.

Ceramic is kept apart from pottery, by using a different technique and a different type of clay. Instead of putting a piece of clay on a turning wheel, ceramics are made from a liquid type of clay, poured into a mold.

After a rather complicated process, when the "greenware" is cleaned and tried, the figure still has to be colored and glazed. Sometimes the figure needs as many as eight covers, before all work is done.

Mrs. Bourne says it is very difficult to make a mold of your own, but it is not necessary really, as a number of companies supply you with roughly 500 different molds.

Each figure requires two to four hours of work, but Mrs. Bourne feels it does not matter.

"The main thing is to have something that is really interesting to do. And if you,

The hockey registration in Athlone last Thursday had a very good turn out, Mr. Fuga reports. There is enough players for two preschool teams, two mite teams, three pee wee teams, one bantam and one midjet team.

There is seven applications for the juvenile team, but Mr. Fuga says more 16 to 18-year-olds are expected to register within a week or so.

Interested juvenile players can get in touch with hockey manager Jerry Berg or the coach Stan Strick.

Athlone's community membership drive has been very successful, says president Bill Venshick. The community league has increased to around 50 members.

Efforts are being made to start a brass band in Athlone. A number of instruments are available and everybody interested can get in touch with Richard Bron, phone 454-6608.

A rummage sale is set for Nov. 28 in the Athlone Hall. The success of the sale all depends on the support from everybody right now, Mrs. Borchert says. Instead of on top of that, can sell a figure now and then to pay for the material, everything is fine. It is a good feeling that somebody likes a thing you have done so much, he is willing to pay for it."

"Most of all I like to make figures personalized - to shape it according to somebody's taste.

Firemen inspecting homes

Members of the St. Albert Volunteer Fire Brigade have begun their annual inspection of St. Albert homes.

This year they will be concentrating their efforts on Mission Park and Chief Fred Tetarenko asks that residents welcome the volunteers into their homes.

"They're just trying to keep the fire hazard down," the chief said, "and answer any question citizens may have on fire prevention."

The inspection campaign started on Sept. 16 and the chief says it will continue every Tuesday, the volunteers' regular training night, until at least mid-October.

Chief Tetarenko said any one in other areas with questions or wishing inspections should phone 599-7021 during the day and they would be taken care of. He said the Mission Park campaign was being handled evenings because the volunteers worked during the day.

The chief again requested that residents refrain from using the 599-7777 number for routine calls to the fire hall.

"This is for emergency only," he stressed. "People using it to phone for information could be tying it up when somebody might be trying to get through with an actual emergency."

Misuse of the emergency number has plagued the department for the past year.

Thank you St. Albert

On behalf of the Kinsmen Club of St. Albert, I would like to extend a sincere thank-you to all the residents and business men for their generous support in our various fund-raising projects over the past year.

The Kinsmen Club hope their service projects are contributing to make St. Albert a more enjoyable place to live and raise a family.

There are now five Tot Lots throughout town which have been equipped at a cost in excess of $5,000.00 and a further five planned for the future.

We also organize and run the St. Albert Kinsmen Minor Hockey League in which we hope to have in excess of 500 boys taking part this year.

Kinofilm the Saturday afternoon movies which begin in October of each year is another of our activities which we enjoy and are very well attended by the children in St. Albert.

We also organize and run the Rodeo each year in June. This event takes months and thousands of man hours to produce with an Annual Budget of approximately $30,000.00. While it is our major fund producer it is becoming more of a Community Service Project each year as many of our business men and citizens anxiously look forward to it, as the biggest weekend in St. Albert.

The following are a few of our expenditures in St. Albert over the past year to keep you our supporters informed.

Arena Fund	$7,500.00
Tot Lots	$2,399.70
Teen Centre	$ 354.17
Christmas Hamper Fund	$ 100.00

We thank you again, and as we enter our new year look forward to continue "Serving the Communities Greatest Needs."

Tom White, President,
Kinsmen Club of St. Albert.

Oilers bestow honors at wind-up banquet

More than 200 people gathered in the Community Hall on Friday night to help St. Albert Willowbrook Oilers bid goodbye to the 1969 baseball season.

Oilers made coach Bob Mulloy's prediction of a second-place finish in the Eastern Division of the Oilfield Baseball League come true, but ran out of pitching in the round-robin playoff to decide the league winner.

All in all, however, Oilers have to consider it a successful season.

They finished on the winning side of the ledger when the totals were posted for league, playoff, exhibition and tournament games.

And with sponsors Rudy and Karl Scheibelhofer of Willowbrook Homes (1964) Ltd. picking up most of the tab, they'll go into the 1970 season on the winning side financially.

The Oilers honored a few of their own Friday night, and even found time to acknowledge a non-member of the organization.

Rene Pouliot didn't know the Oilers when he worked their games as a base umpire. But when he wasn't working the bases, he was one of their most faithful supporters. With his dual role, he seldom missed a game.

They gave Rene a plaque Friday night, acknowledging him as an umpire and a friend. It was one of those times a grown man has a right to cry.

Chester Cunningham, 35, a youngish 35, received a trophy donated by Jasper Auto Parts for being named the team's most valuable player in a poll conducted by the players themselves.

Chester, who presents a formidable target for any batter who thinks he's going to hit one past third base, waves a mean bat himself. He finished fourth in the league in hitting and led the Oilers.

It wasn't just his bat that won him the award, however. As mentioned before, he covers a lot of ground (and take that any way you want) at third base and with his all-out brand of baseball was a source of inspiration to younger players.

Coach Mulloy was also honored, but he passed on the credit to the team. What makes a team? The people on the Oilers, he said, were a prime example, and each found a spot in his speech and his heart.

The coach also paid tribute to the Oilers front row, Shirley Kenney, Lorraine Mitchell, Dodie Bailey, Alice Scheibelhofer, Joanne Reinbolt and Cheryl St. Martin. Modesty, probably, prevented him from mentioning two others. Betty Mulloy and daughter Debbie never missed a game either.

Also honored were Norman LaCourse, the team manager who gave generously of his time, and Rudy

Scheibelhofer, who with his signature on his cheque signed his summer over to the Oilers, proving once again that the word sponsor can mean so much more when it doesn't just boil down to a dollars and cents association.

The banquet, a splendid affair, a fitting ending to a fine season.

Hospital auxiliary to hold elections

The steering committee of the Sturgeon General Hospital Auxiliary will turn over the reins to an official executive in November.

Steering Committee Chairman Mrs. R. H. Varner of St. Albert said an election would be held at the auxiliary's second meeting on the second Monday in the month.

She said candidates would be presented to the membership at the regular October meeting in the Youville Home. She said the date had not been set yet but it would be the third or fourth Monday.

Mrs. Varner said the steering committee had mostly concerned itself with organizing the auxiliary and setting up bylaws. She said four meetings had been held to date.

She said until the hospital opens, the auxiliary will mainly concern itself with fund-raising campaigns.

"Right now we're dead broke," she said, "but we hope to carry out some fund-raising project, a tea, bazaar or tag day, before Christmas."

Mrs. Varner said that although the meeting on Sept. 16 was well-attended, with about 80 persons present, only about 10 were from St. Albert. She said there should be more representation from the town.

William Flynn, chairman of the hospital board, and Gordon Townsend, administrator, were on hand to answer questions.

Hospital on schedule

Construction of the Sturgeon General Hospital is proceeding right on schedule, administrator Gordon Townsend said Monday.

The hospital is closed in now, although the windows are still to be installed. Some partitioning has been done on the second floor and Mr. Townsend said it was anticipated that the plasterers would begin work this week.

The boilers have been installed so heat will be available with the onset of cold weather.

Safety course set for baby-sitters

The safety course for baby-sitters which proved to be so successful in St. Albert last spring is being offered again.

Boys and girls 12 years of age and over are eligible for the course, which is sponsored by the Local Chapter of the Alberta Association of Registered Nurses.

The first course of the season will get under way at 6:30 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 16. Sessions, each of an hour and a quarter, will be held each Thursday until Nov. 20 in the basement of the Evangelical Lutheran Church.

AROUND TOWN

St. Albert Women's Institute will resume their meetings for the season at the home of Mrs. Janice Cunningham, 19 Balmoral Drive on Sept. 30.

Mrs. Sarah Ross will show a film on their trip to Japan. The roll call will be a gift for Oliver.

"I don't want to scare you," the third grader told his teacher, "but my daddy says that if I don't get better grades, somebody is going to get spanked."

Open house previews fall crafts program

If you're looking for a chance to test your artistic or creative talents during the winter months ahead you may find your answer at an open house to be held by the St. Albert Arts and Crafts Guild at the Arts Centre, Salisbury Park, Sunday, Sept. 28, from 2 to 4 p.m. There will be demonstrations and displays representing the various children's, teens' and adults' classes offered by the Guild in co-operation with the Town of St. Albert parks and recreation department, and final registration for classes will be taken.

Some new classes have been added to complement the usual program and each class will be taught by a fully-qualified instructor either at the Arts Centre or at the St. Albert Clubhouse, next to the swimming pool.

One of the new courses scheduled is designed for the housewife who is looking for an inexpensive, relaxing and informative break away from the house. Entitled "House and Home," the course will feature a different guest speaker each week for nine weeks, covering topics of interest to today's modern homemakers.

Flower arranging, anti-ques, Christmas decorations, facts on credit buying and wills, home-freezing and menu planning will be subjects covered during the first part of the program.

New fabrics and tips on today's clothing, the proper serving of wines, the use of plants for decorating, will be other topics presented.

This course will be held Monday evenings from 7:30 to 9 p.m. at the Clubhouse, beginning Oct. 6.

Other new classes include: creative arts, a children's class where music, drama and dance are used as motivations for paintings; a woodworking class which teaches the proper use of hand-tools and the building of items of interest to youngsters eight years and older.

Anyone taking this course is required to supply his own tools and building materials; a nature study course is a family activity program which will feature walks, films and discussion groups; a ceramics instructors' course will be offered to anyone who has already taken ceramics and is interested in teaching.

Other popular courses on the program are ceramics,

Advisory committee

said the advisory committee idea was excellent, but they never really had one.

Mayor Gibben said that because of past experiences, some of the teens behind the original movement wanted no part of the teen centre now. He felt, however, that they could be induced to return.

He said the building needed some work, especially in the kitchen which was in need of cupboards. He also suggested the teens could use some guidance in handling paint brushes.

"But they mainly need guidance in financing," he said. "They need to know how to buy wholesale to make a profit on what they sell. They need to know how to run a dance, that they don't put it on unless the cash to cover it is in the bank."

He said the teens would have to learn to police the centre themselves. He did not want the advisory committee to end up acting as bouncers, but to offer what the name implied—advice.

"We want to make this into a place where teens will want to go, where they can keep themselves occupied so they won't have the urge to take off into Edmonton or up the road into Mortville to see what they can stir up."

The meeting discussed how wide a scope the centre would cover at the outset and there were arguments presented for inclusion of both senior and junior teens. It was suggested that the senior club should lead the way with a junior club to follow. The matter was left with the committee.
